*Twelfth Annual Report of the President
Fiscal Year 1983*

TO THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES:

As provided by the Federal Advisory Committee Act, I am pleased to transmit the Twelfth Annual Report on Federal Advisory Committees.

In fiscal year 1983, Federal advisory committees contributed significant expertise to the discussion of important issues facing our Nation. With the assistance of these committees major initiatives were undertaken in areas such as social security reform, national security, and government efficiency. Other committees furnished valuable advice to Federal agencies concerned with scientific research, health programs, environmental issues, international diplomacy, as well as economic, social and cultural affairs.

Since 1981, Federal agencies have achieved substantial overall savings in advisory committee program costs while continuing to make active use of committees in the government decision-making process. These savings have been achieved without the sacrifice of the quality advice the agencies have required. The participation of the best possible members on a voluntary basis where possible, but on a compensatory basis where appropriate, must continue to be the goal. I plan to issue shortly a memorandum to Executive branch agencies providing further guidance to sustain and improve upon these accomplishments.

The efficient and selective use of advisory committees was one of the major objectives of the Congress in enacting the Federal Advisory Committee Act. I am particularly concerned that advisory committees be established only when they are necessary, that they be carefully supported and monitored during their existence, and that they be promptly terminated when their mission is completed.

I commend the members who have served on advisory committees and thank them for sharing their experience, knowledge and advice. Advisory committees can and have demonstrated the value of a continuing partnership between citizens and their government.

THE WHITE HOUSE,

June 20, 1984.

JUN 6 1984

The President
The White House
Washington, DC 20500

Dear Mr. President:

I have the honor of submitting the Twelfth Annual Report on Federal Advisory Committees for your consideration and transmittal to the Congress.

Consistent with your policy of promoting active citizen involvement in the government decision-making process, Federal agencies held 11 percent more advisory committee meetings during fiscal year 1983. Yet total committee costs rose only 2 percent during the same period, and the average per meeting cost declined by a substantial 8 percent. In short, agencies continued the recent trend of doing more with less.

GSA advisory committee management initiatives during fiscal year 1983 included:

- *implementing a new interim regulation aimed at improving advisory committee management and program oversight. The rule incorporated numerous suggestions contained in previous annual reports.
- *performing follow-up surveys of Federal agencies to gain a more detailed view of committee activities and costs. The results of those surveys are included in this report.
- *automating membership data and developing statistical profiles of membership occupation groups and places of residence which are included in this report.
- *establishing a volunteer task force of Federal agency personnel to review current cost reporting methods used by agencies and to develop a uniform cost reporting system which will make advisory committee data more accurate and timely.

GSA shall continue to provide the leadership to assist agencies in improving the usefulness and efficiency of advisory committees. We shall also encourage agencies to assure that those who serve as committee members derive the personal satisfaction that comes from performing meaningful public service.

Sincerely,

INTRODUCTION

Introduction

This is the Twelfth Annual Report of the President to the Congress on the activities, status, and changes in the composition of Federal Advisory Committees.* For the first time the report covers the period October 1, 1982-September 30, 1983, consistent with legislation approved by Congress changing the report cycle from a calendar to a fiscal year basis. To accommodate this transition advisory committee data for the months of October-December, 1982, are necessarily included in both the Eleventh and Twelfth Annual Reports. (See Chart I.)

Congress enacted the Federal Advisory Committee Act (FACA) in 1972 to establish uniform standards for advisory committees of the executive branch, to monitor their number and activity, and to assure public access to and awareness of their deliberations. Since 1977, the General Services Administration (GSA) through its Committee Management Secretariat (CMS) has been assigned responsibility by FACA and Presidential Executive Order for overseeing and reporting advisory committee activities of Federal agencies.

Advisory committees serve the American people by enabling Federal agencies to utilize the expertise of private citizens which otherwise might not be available. These committees provide broad policy advice on major national issues, develop specific technical recommendations on agency problems, or review and recommend action on requests for financial grants.

A number of advisory committees captured national headlines during 1983 as they grappled with important economic or strategic problems facing our Nation including the National Commission on Social Security Reform; the National Bipartisan Commission on Central America, otherwise known as the "Kissinger Commission"; and the President's Commission on Strategic Forces, sometimes called the "MX Missile Panel" or "Scowcroft Commission." The vast majority of advisory committees, however, work in relative anonymity, known primarily to their sponsoring agencies, and to those groups and individuals most affected by their deliberations.

*This report is prepared in accordance with Section 2 of Executive Order No. 12024 to fulfill the requirements of Section 6(c) of the Federal Advisory Committee Act, as amended (Public Law 92-463, 5 U.S.C., App.). This is a summary and analysis of the information furnished by Federal departments and agencies which is forwarded separately to the Congress.

The contributions of public-spirited citizens who serve on advisory committees can be enormous, and their efforts can affect the breadth of our Nation's economic, scientific, and social fabric.

Advisory Committee Meetings

In fiscal year 1983, 973 Federal advisory committees held a total of 3,733 meetings, an 11 percent increase over the previous reporting year. The frequency of meetings also increased during the same period from an average of 3.5 to 3.8 meetings per committee as shown in Chart II.

The range of activity extended from 136 committees which reported holding no meetings to 22 committees which met more than 20 times each during the year. GSA noted that a substantial number, 14 percent, of all chartered committees held no meetings and yet accounted for the expenditure of $659,000. (See Chart III.) This represented a decline from the previous year when 194 committees spent $1,241,000 without holding meetings.

In 1983, GSA received numerous requests from the Congress, Federal agencies, and the public for more information about inactive committees which were discussed in the President's Eleventh Annual Report. GSA targeted 120 of those committees in a follow-up survey of eighteen Federal agencies. Committees either newly established or terminated during calendar year 1982 were excluded from the survey.

In responses received from the eighteen surveyed agencies, a number of explanations were common to several agencies and committees. Seven agencies identified one or more of their inactive committees as candidates for termination, and during fiscal year 1983, several of those committees were terminated. Agencies also identified a number of obsolete committees which remain chartered because of their statutory origin. These agencies cited previous unsuccessful efforts to obtain legislative action to abolish defunct committees, leaving numerous advisory committees in a "dead-but-alive" status. GSA recommends that the Congress eliminate inactive, statutorily-created committees which no longer serve any purpose except to add administrative cost to the advisory committee program.

Although some inactive advisory committees were recommended for termination, agencies offered various justifications for retaining other committees included in the survey. Reasons offered for temporary inactivity included:

● Agency Reorganization.

Personnel or program realignments within agencies caused a number of delays in scheduling advisory committee meetings, rendering some committees inactive during the reporting period. This was especially true in HHS where six committees were inactive during reorganizations.

● Budgetary Restrictions.

Budget constraints affected advisory committees of numerous agencies including the Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Department of Justice, and Department of Education.

● "As Needed Basis" for Some Committees.

A few agencies explained that their inactive committees meet on an "as needed" or intermittent basis. Such committees reportedly cost little to maintain but are available to deal with special agency problems on a timely and efficient basis.

● Delays in Appointing Committee Members. Delays in appointing committee members was by far the most important reason offered by the Department of the Interior which had 53 inactive committees included in the survey. (In fiscal year 1983, Interior committees holding no meetings dropped to 34 from the total of 73 reported the previous year.)

Other explanations included staffing problems, lack of a clearly defined committee agenda, reporting errors, and lack of cooperation by other participating agencies. In one instance, a committee became "inactive" because its scheduled annual meeting was postponed by the unexpected death of a committee member. The Department of Energy did not provide information about two of its inactive committees included in the survey.

Some agencies suggested that a lack of formal meetings did not preclude work from being performed during the year, such as site visits, staff research, and "homework" by committee members.

Costs assigned to committees which did not meet were most often attributed to staff salaries and related administrative overhead. A few agencies offered no explanation at all for the reported cost of their committees included in the survey.

GSA has concluded that continuation of many of the committees surveyed was justified. However, GSA has strongly urged closer scrutiny of advisory committees by senior agency management to assure that committees remain essential to the agency's mission. Committees lacking a clearly defined agenda or receiving little direction from senior agency management may be searching for a mission in order to develop a life of their own.

Advisory Committee Activities

GSA reviewed committee activities and accomplishments reported by agencies for fiscal year 1983. Some agencies furnished detailed reports and carefully documented committee contributions. Others provided a standardized response about committees' accomplishments in lieu of identifying individual committee activities. Some agencies referred GSA to reports filed in previous years as an explanation of committee activities and accomplishments for fiscal year 1983.

Chart IV summarizes some advisory committee activities in fiscal year 1983 as reported by selected agencies.

On the basis of data furnished to GSA for this annual report, agencies are proposing that in fiscal year 1984, 113 of the committees existing in 1983 be terminated, 3 be merged with other committees, and 857 be continued. Agency recommendations are summarized on Chart V.

Advisory committees operate under a variety of circumstances to perform different missions. One of the key objectives of the Congress in creating FACA was to assure openness and public participation in the wide range of committee proceedings. The law

Advisory Committees Costs

Federal departments and agencies reported spending a total of $75,896,000 to operate their advisory committees in fiscal year 1983, a 2 percent increase over the previous reporting year. Those costs include compensation, travel, and per diem expenses for members (where paid); staff support costs (including salaries and other expenses of Federal employees supporting the committees); consulting fees; and administrative overhead such as printing, rental space, and supplies. Advisory committee costs for fiscal year 1983 are summarized on Chart VIII.

Since 1980, total advisory committee expenditures have declined from a peak of $87,000,000, consistent with the President's goal of seeking program cost reductions and greater utilization of resources. Even though total costs were up slightly in 1983, advisory committee unit costs went down. Not only did the cost per committee decline slightly from $78,200 to $78,000, but more significantly, committees held 381 additional meetings, resulting in an 8 percent decline in the cost per meeting from $22,100 in 1982 to $20,300 in 1983.

If inflation is considered in a cost comparison, overall 1983 costs, measured in 1982 dollars, remained constant and perhaps declined slightly from the previous year. To better determine the underlying causes for the overall cost trend of the advisory committee program, GSA in 1983 conducted a follow-up survey of Federal agencies using the most recent data available. In calendar year 1982 Federal agencies in the aggregate had achieved a cost reduction of approximately eight percent from the previous year.

GSA surveyed nineteen agencies which had reported a change of at least 20% in the 1982 cost of their advisory committee operations, including ten agencies showing increases and nine showing decreases.

Nine of the agencies reporting increases attributed them to three major causes: the establishment of additional advisory committees, an increase in committee activity, or a change in the method of reporting advisory committee costs. The National Endowment for the Arts, the tenth agency reporting an increase, failed to respond to the GSA survey.

The cost reductions reported by the other nine agencies were attributed to committee terminations or reductions in committee meetings, activities, or expenses. Three of these agencies also attributed part of their reductions to reporting discrepancies or updated data.

The GSA survey is summarized in Chart IX.

Chart VIII
Federal Advisory Committee Costs
(FY 1983)

Compensated non Federal members	$5,468,819
Compensated Federal members	1,785,485
Compensated Federal staff	35,080,509
Consultant fees	8,947,079
Non Federal travel/per diem	11,701,576
Federal travel/per diem	1,991,673
Facility rental	688,363
Other costs	10,233,043
Total:	$75,896,547

A valid comparison of advisory committee costs requires consistent data. GSA believes that considerable discrepancy exists in data reported by agencies, with some agencies counting both direct and indirect costs and others omitting comparable data from their reports. GSA attempted to improve comparability in 1982 by identifying several new specific cost factors to be reported by all agencies. This initiative resulted in at least three of the agencies attributing all or part of their reported cost increase to the more detailed format. Since sixty Federal departments and agencies used the same forms to report advisory committee costs, it is likely that the overall program cost reduction in 1982 might have been even greater had the forms remained unchanged from the previous year. The forms were further refined for fiscal year 1983, having the same net effect on comparisons with 1982 data.

To achieve more uniformity and accuracy in the reporting process, GSA has established a task force of committee management staff volunteers from several agencies. That task force is developing a cost-reporting proposal to be submitted to GSA. There are tentative plans for GSA to implement this new standard cost-reporting format in fiscal year 1984.

This change will not only improve the reliability of advisory committee data needed by the President and the Congress in their oversight roles, but also will solve a problem for those agencies whose thorough cost reporting in the past has given the appearance of higher unit cost for their advisory committees.

In many respects, advisory committees are a bargain for the Federal Government in that they allow Federal agencies to utilize high caliber expertise from the private sector, often at marginal cost. However, there are areas where cost performance can be improved. In previous reports GSA has identified specific steps agencies should take to increase committee productivity. Foremost among these is recruiting qualified advisory committee members to serve on a voluntary basis.

Nearly seven percent of the total cost of Federal advisory committees is attributable to compensation paid to non-Federal members. In fiscal year 1983, compensation was the exception government-wide with only 7,130 or 33 percent of the total 21,941 members being paid for their advisory committee service (See Chart X). Eighty percent of all compensated members served on committees of four agencies which have followed a universal compensation policy (See Chart XI). Some agencies have made little or no use of qualified volunteers on their advisory committees, while other agencies have successfully recruited experts from all professions to serve on a noncompensated basis.

Although there are circumstances where compensation is necessary and appropriate, GSA believes that compensation should be the exception rather than the rule for committee service.

Advisory Committee Members

It has been axiomatic that Federal advisory committees are a microcosm of the American public in that citizens of nearly every background and profession have served as committee members. In drafting FACA, Congress expressed its desire that advisory committee membership should be broad-based and should be "fairly balanced in terms of the points of view represented and the functions to be performed." Criteria for determining balance vary from committee to committee and may include occupations, geographical aspects, economic points of view, scientific disciplines, public versus private interests, or other pertinent factors.

GSA automated and streamlined membership records in 1983, making possible new statistical reports to aid in the management and oversight of committees. GSA developed an occupational profile of committees and their sponsoring agencies by requesting agencies to assign each member a new "occupation" and "industry" code. The occupation code was taken from the Dictionary of Occupational Titles published by the U.S. Department of Labor. The industry code, devised by GSA, places each member in one of five broad categories in the public or private sector.

GSA implemented the occupational profile system, using data on 17,000 committee members submitted by agencies for the quarter ending September 30, 1983. A distribution of members by significant occupational and industry groups is shown on Charts XII and XIII, respectively. Not surprisingly, 7,500 or 42 percent of all committee members came from professions in private enterprise. The Federal Government and state/local government were evenly represented with approximately 1,700 persons from each group.

While some occupations, such as managers and miscellaneous professionals, could be found on advisory committees in nearly every agency, other occupations tend to be agency and program specific. For example, 2,000 or 78 percent of members from the fields of medicine and health were concentrated in committees of the Department of Health and Human Services. Likewise, 185 or 88 percent of members holding occupations in art served on committees of the National Endowment for the Arts. Occupational groups most frequently represented on advisory committees of selected agencies are identified on Chart XIV.

GSA also used available data to develop a profile of advisory committee members by state of residence. Two thousand six hundred or 13 percent of members included in the data base were identified as coming from Washington, D.C. Maryland and Virginia contributed an additional 800 and 635 members respectively. The metropolitan Washington, D.C. area had the highest concentration of members because of the frequent participation of Federal officials as committee members and the routine scheduling of committee meetings in agency facilities located in the Nation's capital, resulting in the use of experts who are available locally (thereby helping hold down advisory committee costs).

California had 1,934 residents serving on Federal advisory committees. New York followed closely with 1,857 members. On the lower end of the scale, South Dakota contributed 53 members, while the average number of members per state was 393.

Advisory committee membership was not limited to state residents or even to American citizens. One hundred seventy-four members were identified by agencies as foreign citizens or residents of U.S. possessions and territories. Of this group, 68 members were Canadian citizens, with others coming

The GSA Committee Management Secretariat

The task of oversight of Federal advisory committee activities within the executive branch belongs to the Committee Management Secretariat (CMS). Created by FACA and located originally within the Office of Management and Budget, CMS was transferred by Presidential Executive Order in 1977 to the General Services Administration.

Although FACA assigns CMS responsibility "for all matters relating to advisory committees," several distinct functions have been performed historically by the office. Most global of these functions has been to maintain a file on each committee, including a copy of the committee's charter, reports submitted by agencies, and other relevant correspondence and documents related to the committee's activities. Through the CMS filing system, GSA monitors the life cycle of advisory committees.

Federal advisory committee activities are formally summarized each year when CMS prepares the annual report of the President which is submitted to the Congress. The information in the report is intended by GSA to support the President in setting advisory committee policy objectives, assist Federal agencies in the management and control of their own committees, and provide program data to the Congress and the public. Historically, the report consisted of a few statistical tables and an alphabetical listing of committees and their sponsoring agencies. More recently GSA has expanded the report to include analysis of advisory committee data, as well as program recommendations.

GSA through the Committee Management Secretariat also plays a role in the establishment, renewal, and termination of advisory committees. For a committee established by statute or the President, CMS receives a pro forma copy of the charter and monitors the committee's activities. Agencies wishing to establish or renew an advisory committee submit a proposal to CMS which is reviewed through a process known as "consultation." CMS examines the proposal to assure its certification of compliance with FACA, and, where appropriate, invites program comments from the Office of Management and Budget and other Federal agencies. The consultation process is completed when CMS notifies the sponsoring agency of GSA's "concurrency" or "nonconcurrency" in the proposal. Although a "nonconcurrency" does not constitute a veto, agencies rarely proceed to establish or renew committees that are not supported by the GSA review. As a practical matter, nonconcurrences occur in fewer than five percent of the committees proposed to GSA, since GSA believes the basic need and justification for an advisory committee must be established by the sponsoring agency.

CMS also performs a service function helping to solve advisory committee management problems experienced by agencies; by responding to agency requests for legal and program advice; by disseminating information government-wide on recent legislative, judicial, or administrative actions affecting committees; and by responding to public inquiries about specific committee activities and general program trends.

Examples of such services rendered during the fiscal year 1983 include negotiating the settlement of a dispute between the Department of the Interior and an environmental organization about the status of a working group studying wetlands preservation, distributing and promoting GSA discount travel information to help agencies save money on official travel costs incurred for their advisory committee members, and establishing a volunteer working group to explore the feasibility of a handbook of practical advisory committee management information.

During the past year, CMS has begun converting advisory committee statistical records and data from a paper to a computer base. This change will simplify reporting procedures for Federal agencies and make advisory committee program information available on a current rather than an historical basis.

For More Information About Federal Advisory Committees

Following this introduction, the Twelfth Annual Report includes an alphabetical listing as well as a listing by agency of all Federal advisory committees which existed during all or part of fiscal year 1983. The report also includes the names and telephone numbers of the professional committee management staff personnel for each department and agency using advisory committees.

A series of appendices at the end of the report include the text of the Federal Advisory Committee Act, as amended; Executive Order 12024; the GSA interim rule on advisory committee management; copies of the forms completed by departments and agencies which provided the information upon which this report is based; and additional charts and tables of advisory committee program data. No information provided by Federal agencies has been excluded from this report for reasons of national security.

Further information concerning Federal advisory committees may be obtained by contacting the committee management officer within each department or agency, or from the GSA Committee Management Secretariat; General Services Administration; Washington, D.C. 20405 (Telephone: (202) 523-4884). A complete set of forms and documents used in completing this report is also on file and available for public inspection at the Library of Congress, Washington, D.C.

This report was prepared by Ronald L. Martinson, Special Assistant to the Archivist, and the Committee Management Secretariat staff — Charles F. Howton, Andrea D. Washington, Melanie A. Steen, and Elizabeth Frazier.

An Act

86 STAT. 770

To authorize the establishment of a system governing the creation and operation of advisory committees in the executive branch of the Federal Government, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That this Act may be cited as the "Federal Advisory Committee Act".

Federal Advisory Committee Act.

FINDINGS AND PURPOSES

Sec. 2. (a) The Congress finds that there are numerous committees, boards, commissions, councils, and similar groups which have been established to advise officers and agencies in the executive branch of the Federal Government and that they are frequently a useful and beneficial means of furnishing expert advice, ideas, and diverse opinions to the Federal Government.

(b) The Congress further finds and declares that—

- (1) the need for many existing advisory committees has not been adequately reviewed;
- (2) new advisory committees should be established only when they are determined to be essential and their number should be kept to the minimum necessary;
- (3) advisory committees should be terminated when they are no longer carrying out the purposes for which they were established;
- (4) standards and uniform procedures should govern the establishment, operation, administration, and duration of advisory committees;
- (5) the Congress and the public should be kept informed with respect to the number, purpose, membership, activities, and cost of advisory committees; and
- (6) the function of advisory committees should be advisory only, and that all matters under their consideration should be determined, in accordance with law, by the official, agency, or officer involved.

DEFINITIONS

Sec. 3. For the purpose of this Act—

(1) The term "Director" means the Director of the Office of Management and Budget.

(2) The term "advisory committee" means any committee, board, commission, council, conference, panel, task force, or other similar group, or any subcommittee or other subgroup thereof (hereafter in this paragraph referred to as "committee"), which is—

- (A) established by statute or reorganization plan, or
- (B) established or utilized by the President, or
- (C) established or utilized by one or more agencies, in the interest of obtaining advice or recommendations for the President or one or more agencies or officers of the Federal Government, except that such term excludes (i) the Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations, (ii) the Commission on Government Procurement, and (iii) any committee which is composed wholly of full-time officers or employees of the Federal Government.

(3) The term "agency" has the same meaning as in section 551(1) of title 5, United States Code.

(4) The term "Presidential advisory committee" means an advisory committee which advises the President.

APPLICABILITY

SEC. 4. (a) The provisions of this Act or of any rule, order, or regulation promulgated under this Act shall apply to each advisory committee except to the extent that any Act of Congress establishing any such advisory committee specifically provides otherwise.

Restrictions.

(b) Nothing in this Act shall be construed to apply to any advisory committee established or utilized by—

- (1) the Central Intelligence Agency; or
- (2) the Federal Reserve System.

(c) Nothing in this Act shall be construed to apply to any local civic group whose primary function is that of rendering a public service with respect to a Federal program, or any State or local committee, council, board, commission, or similar group established to advise or make recommendations to State or local officials or agencies.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEES

Review.

SEC. 5. (a) In the exercise of its legislative review function, each standing committee of the Senate and the House of Representatives shall make a continuing review of the activities of each advisory committee under its jurisdiction to determine whether such advisory committee should be abolished or merged with any other advisory committee, whether the responsibilities of such advisory committee should be revised, and whether such advisory committee performs a necessary function not already being performed. Each such standing committee shall take appropriate action to obtain the enactment of legislation necessary to carry out the purpose of this subsection.

Guidelines.

(b) In considering legislation establishing, or authorizing the establishment of any advisory committee, each standing committee of the Senate and of the House of Representatives shall determine, and report such determination to the Senate or to the House of Representatives, as the case may be, whether the functions of the proposed advisory committee are being or could be performed by one or more agencies or by an advisory committee already in existence, or by enlarging the mandate of an existing advisory committee. Any such legislation shall—

- (1) contain a clearly defined purpose for the advisory committee;
- (2) require the membership of the advisory committee to be fairly balanced in terms of the points of view represented and the functions to be performed by the advisory committee;
- (3) contain appropriate provisions to assure that the advice and recommendations of the advisory committee will not be inappropriately influenced by the appointing authority or by any special interest, but will instead be the result of the advisory committee's independent judgment;
- (4) contain provisions dealing with authorization of appropriations, the date for submission of reports (if any), the duration of the advisory committee, and the publication of reports and other materials, to the extent that the standing committee determines the provisions of section 10 of this Act to be inadequate; and

(5) contain provisions which will assure that the advisory committee will have adequate staff (either supplied by an agency or employed by it), will be provided adequate quarters, and will have funds available to meet its other necessary expenses.

(c) To the extent they are applicable, the guidelines set out in subsection (b) of this section shall be followed by the President, agency heads, or other Federal officials in creating an advisory committee.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE PRESIDENT

Sec. 6. (a) The President may delegate responsibility for evaluating and taking action, where appropriate, with respect to all public recommendations made to him by Presidential advisory committees.

(b) Within one year after a Presidential advisory committee has submitted a public report to the President, the President or his delegate shall make a report to the Congress stating either his proposals for action or his reasons for inaction, with respect to the recommendations contained in the public report.

Report to Congress.

(c) The President shall, not later than March 31 of each calendar year (after the year in which this Act is enacted), make an annual report to the Congress on the activities, status, and changes in the composition of advisory committees in existence during the preceding calendar year. The report shall contain the name of every advisory committee, the date of and authority for its creation, its termination date or the date it is to make a report, its functions, a reference to the reports it has submitted, a statement of whether it is an ad hoc or continuing body, the dates of its meetings, the names and occupations of its current members, and the total estimated annual cost to the United States to fund, service, supply, and maintain such committee. Such report shall include a list of those advisory committees abolished by the President, and in the case of advisory committees established by statute, a list of those advisory committees which the President recommends be abolished together with his reasons therefor. The President shall exclude from this report any information which, in his judgment, should be withheld for reasons of national security, and he shall include in such report a statement that such information is excluded.

The Director may from time to time request such information as he deems necessary to carry out his functions under this subsection. Upon the completion of the Director's review he shall make recommendations to the President and to either the agency head or the Congress with respect to action he believes should be taken. Thereafter, the Director shall carry out a similar review annually. Agency heads shall cooperate with the Director in making the reviews required by this subsection.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

GSA's authority for administering the Act is contained in section 7 of the Act and Executive Order 12024, (42 FR 61445, 3 CFR, 1977 Comp., p. 158). Under Executive Order 12024, the President delegated to the Administrator of General Services all the functions vested in the President by the Act, as amended, except that of reporting annually to the Congress, and redelegated to the Administrator the responsibility for the preparation of the annual report required by section 9(c) of the Act.

Originally, the responsibility for all matters relating to advisory committees was placed in the Office of Management and Budget (OMB), which issued Circular A-63 (March 27, 1974) and A-63 Transmittal Memoranda 1, 4, and 5.

In light of GSA's experience in administering the Act, GSA is issuing this interim rule, which consolidates many features of these OMB Circulars with existing GSA reporting requirements. The rule also provides additional procedures and guidance for Federal agencies.

Prior Comments

GSA issued an advance notice of proposed rulemaking (44 FR 68852, November 21, 1979) and a notice of proposed rulemaking (45 FR 55769; August 21, 1980). As a result of the proposed rule, 23 comments were received, and all have been carefully considered in developing this interim rule.

One of the major issues raised by commenters was the extent of applicability of the Act. Some commenters believe, as a matter of general policy, that advisory groups which are not formally structured, which do not have a continuing existence, which meet to deal with specific issues, and whose meetings do not constitute an established pattern of conduct should not be covered under the Act. One commenter asserted that the case law does not preclude administrative interpretation of the Act in limiting the definition of "Advisory committee" and also limiting coverage of "ad hoc groups." Another commenter favored a specific exemption for "ad hoc groups," based on Marblestone, (The Coverage of the Federal Advisory Committee Act, 35 Federal Bar Journal, 119). These comments were received before the decision in National Resources Defense Council v. Edwards, 2 GDS ¶ 82,070 (D.D.C., 1981). This rule reflects our judgment that the exclusion of certain non-recurring meetings from the Act's coverage is fully consistent with the statute, its legislative history, and judicial interpretation. The need for this flexibility was recently recognized in National Anti-Hunger Coalition, et al. v. Executive Committee of the President's Private Sector Survey on Cost Control, et al., Civil Action No. 82-3592 (D.D.C., Feb. 24, 1983). In wrestling with FACA's imprecise language, the court stated, "The Court's task in the absence of clear indications in the statute or its legislative history to the contrary, must be to achieve a common-sense interpretation. Congressional concerns must be accommodated in a manner that produces a constitutional result, in this instance to leave the President with substantial freedom to formulate policy recommendations free from excessive intrusion." The interim rule provides guidance on those meetings between Federal officials and non-Federal individuals which do not fall within the scope of the Act, and for which a charter and consultation with GSA is not required.

Another issue raised was whether the Act applies to committees "utilized" by agencies. One commenter contended that the proposed rule failed to distinguish committees "established" by agencies from those "utilized" by agencies. That commenter also believed that the Cox decision (Center for Auto Safety v. Cox, 580 F.2d 689 (D.C. Cir., 1978)) would make the Act inapplicable to "utilized" committees. GSA has reviewed the Cox decision and does not agree with that interpretation. Subsequent judicial precedent supports GSA's position. The interim rule does define a "utilized" committee.

In providing guidance on those groups and meetings not subject to FACA, and on utilization, GSA is in general agreement with the following recommendation of the Administrative Conference of the United States.

The most serious problems regarding the coverage of FACA have involved the applicability of the Act (a) to groups convened by agencies, on an ad hoc basis, without formal organization or structure or continuing existence, to obtain views on particular matters of immediate concern to the agency, and (b) to privately established groups whose advice is "utilized" by an agency.

a. Uncertainty as to the applicability of FACA to one-time or occasional meetings between ad hoc groups and government officials has tended to discourage useful contacts with the private sector. It is impractical to require such meetings to conform with the Act's requirements regarding chartering, advance notice, and structure of the committee. The Administrative Conference believes that the Act is not applicable to ad hoc, unstructured, noncontinuing groups and that GSA's guidelines should make this clear. Coverage of such groups would not further the purposes of the Act.

b. The conference believes that the definition of "advisory committee" is limited to committees either established by government action or affirmatively supported and "utilized" by the government through institutional arrangements which amount to the adoption of the groups as a preferred source of advice. GSA's guidelines should make this clear.

Thus, under the interim rule, the President or Federal official would "utilize" a committee when that individual recognizes, uses, or intends to use the committee as a preferred source of advice on specific, identified government policy within that individual's scope of responsibility. Such committees, although they may be informal, have an organizational structure, a stable membership and, generally, a continuing existence. They meet to present recommendations developed by that committee, as distinguished from meetings whose attendees respond as individuals.

While this interim rule provides guidance and examples of meetings with groups of individuals which are not subject to the Act, agencies are cautioned that the group can become subject to the Act if a pattern or "track record" develops whereby an agency seeks advice from the group in such a way that it becomes a preferred source of advice.

Questions were raised as to when all the requirements of the Act apply to subcommittees. One commenter suggested a clarification of the definition of subcommittee, so that the establishment of subcommittees is not used to circumvent the principles of the Act.

Another commenter, however, suggested that a subcommittee is not required to consult and charter separately if it has functions related to the functions of the parent committee, and reports to the parent committee. The Court's reasoning in National Anti-Hunger Coalition v. Executive Committee supports the latter recommendation by emphasizing that the Act's requirements apply to committees which provide advice and recommendations directly to the President or Federal official, and as opposed to the parent committee. Therefore, the requirements for consultation and chartering of subcommittees which appear in § 101-6.1007(a)(3) apply when a subcommittee functions independently of the parent committee such as reporting directly to the President or agency official rather than to the parent committee.

Another commenter, on behalf of a consortium of State and local interest groups, requested an administrative exemption from FACA coverage for State and local officials and their representatives. Although this comment has merit, GSA has concluded this exemption would require amendment of the Act.

One commenter suggests that there be a definition of "meeting" so it would be clear when an agency must comply with procedures under the Act. It is GSA's position that informal meetings or gatherings of advisory committee members in which substantive committee business is discussed are subject to the provisions of the Act. GSA recognizes the administrative difficulty in this area and has concluded that the sponsoring agency can best determine whether a specific gathering of advisory committee members constitutes an advisory committee meeting. GSA believes, however, that meetings of two or more advisory committee members convened to gather information or conduct research for the committee to analyze relevant issues and facts, or to draft option papers for consideration by the advisory committee do not constitute a meeting of the advisory committee subject to the requirements of the Act. National Anti-Hunger Coalition v. Executive Committee, supra.

Several commenters raised questions as to GSA's role in the establishment of advisory committees. Some commenters objected to the requirement for GSA concurrence before an agency head can establish, use, or renew an advisory committee under general agency authority.

We recognize the sensitive nature of this particular issue, that is, the role to be played by GSA in the establishment of an advisory committee. GSA is fully aware that an agency head, not GSA, "determines as a matter of formal record" (after consultation with the Administrator) that the establishment of an advisory committee is "in the public interest in connection with the performance of duties imposed on that agency by law."

However, GSA is responsible for "all matters relating to advisory committees" (5 U.S.C. App. I) and a meaningful rather than a pro forma consultation role is necessary to fulfill this responsibility. This conclusion is reinforced by the language in sec. 9(a)(2) of FACA, which provides that an advisory committee cannot be established until the consultation process has taken place. In the absence of specific direction in either FACA or its legislative history as to what precisely is meant by the word "consultation," it is incumbent on GSA to determine the parameters of this process.

We have concluded to follow the consultative process as it has been performed, in the beginning by OMB and then by GSA. GSA will, therefore, continue the practice of giving notification of "concurrence/nonconcurrence" in consultations received from agencies.

We do not view or interpret the words "concur/nonconcur" as implying a veto power by GSA over a determination which properly rests in the head of another agency. Rather, we interpret the word "concur" as meaning that GSA agrees the establishment of a particular committee is in accord with the terms and spirit of FACA. Conversely, a nonconcurrence would indicate GSA's opinion that the establishment of a committee is not in accord with FACA.

GSA also believes that its notification of "concurrence/nonconcurrence" to an agency head is a logical way to complete the consultation process. Such notification is GSA's means of letting the agency head know that the consultation process has been fulfilled.

In the final analysis, a nonconcurrence by GSA would not legally prevent an agency from establishing a particular committee. However, GSA in discharging its oversight function of advisory committees intends to prepare and submit periodic reports to the President, OMB, and the Congress. Our nonconcurrence in any advisory committee, therefore, would be included in these reports.

GSA also intends to watch for situations in which agencies might redefine or restructure advisory committees in such a way as to exclude them from the Act's coverage and requirements. GSA will analyze these situations to determine if an agency is elevating form over substance to disguise an advisory committee which should comply with the Act. If this is the case, GSA will recommend that such groups are chartered and operate in accordance with the Act. In situations where GSA and the sponsoring agency cannot resolve the matter, GSA will identify in future reports the groups for which a charter has been recommended and no action has been taken.

Other commenters suggest that if GSA had not replied to an agency consultation letter by the end of a specific review period, GSA concurrence would be implied. We have not included this suggestion in this rule on the grounds that it is not practical. When GSA receives an agency consultation letter, it gathers pertinent information to assess the need for the committee. Occasionally, certain information is not available or provided within a specified time period. To allow a committee to come into being without that information would not be in the public interest. This interim rule provides that GSA will respond to an agency consultation letter within 15 days, if possible.

Another commenter raised the question of the role of the OMB budget examiner in the consultation process. The budget examiner's role has been integral to the consultation process since it began. When the function was transferred to GSA, OMB continued to make available the assistance of budget examiners in the consultation process.

Several commenters objected to language requiring that agencies maintain complete documentation on their advisory committees in a single location on the basis that such a requirement was administratively excessive and unreasonable. Most of the commenters on this issue suggest that GSA's language follow the language in the Act. GSA agrees and has eased this requirement.

One commenter asked that the regulation prohibit dual and multiple committee memberships in which one person serves on more than one committee in one of more agencies. That commenter believed that such multiple memberships should be discouraged in the interest of providing access by a broader number of citizens to membership on advisory committees. GSA believes that, if necessary, agencies should deal with this issue in their own regulations and procedures.

Some commenters suggested that a definition of "Independent Presidential Advisory Committee" be included in order to make clear which Presidential advisory committees receive administrative support from the Administrator of General Services. GSA agrees with this suggestion and has included a definition of an independent PAC. The duties of the Chairperson of an independent PAC are set out separately.

Several comments were made on the organization of the proposed rule and the clarity of certain terms. For example, some suggestions were offered on alternative language to describe "balanced membership." GSA has attempted to clarify in this interim rule the guidelines for balanced membership. The rule describes balance in terms of specific function to be performed by a particular committee. This is consistent with the language of National Anti-hunger Coalition v. Executive Committee, supra.

Additional Instructions

Pursuant to section 7(d) of the Act, the Administrator after study and consultation with the Director, Office of Personnel Management, is to establish guidelines with respect to uniform fair rates of pay for comparable services for members, staffs, and consultants of advisory committees. The consultation process with OPM has taken place.

Consistent with the intent of Congress and the President to control the costs of administering advisory committees, the interim rule contains a provision which states that unless otherwise required by law, or when necessary to obtain balanced membership or a particular level of technical expertise, no member of an advisory committee shall receive compensation for his or her services. In other words, unless an exception applies, compensation shall be set at zero.

GSA believes that a sufficient number of citizens of all backgrounds and qualifications can be found to provide advice and recommendations to the Federal Government through voluntary service on advisory committees.

The interim rule does provide for the reimbursement of necessary travel expenses and per diem, as well as a mechanism where agencies may engage consultants to serve as members of advisory committees when this is necessary to acquire certain technical expertise or balanced membership that cannot be satisfied solely through the appointment of noncompensated members. However, it is the responsibility of each agency to make a good faith effort to meet its membership requirements on a noncompensated basis. GSA in its oversight responsibility will include membership information in program reports and recommendations which it prepares on Federal advisory committees. The interim regulation contains no changes to present methods used by agencies regarding compensation of consultants or staff under OPM and OMB procedures.

The rules have also been amended to reflect the change in the annual agency reporting requirements from a calendar year to a fiscal year cycle brought about by Pub. L. 97-375.

Executive Order 12291

The General Services Administration has determined that this proposed rule is not a major rule for purposes of Executive Order 12291 of February 17, 1981, because it will not result in an annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more, will not cause a major increase in costs to consumers or others, and will not have significant adverse effects. The General Services Administration has based all administrative decisions on this proposed rule on adequate information concerning the need for and consequences of this proposed rule. GSA has also determined that the potential benefits to society from this proposed rule far outweigh the potential costs, has maximized the net benefits, and has chosen the alternative involving the least net cost to society.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

These regulations are not subject to the regulatory flexibility analysis or other requirements of 5 U.S.C. 603 and 604.

Effect on Other Directives

This rule replaces OMB Circular A-63 (March 27, 1974) and A-63 Transmittal Memoranda 1, 4, and 5 which have been rescinded by OMB.

Subpart 101-6.10—Federal Advisory Committee Management

§ 101-6.1001 Scope.

(a) The following regulations define the policies, establish minimum requirements, and provide guidance to agency management for the establishment, operation, administration, and duration of advisory committees subject to the Federal Advisory Committee Act, as amended. Reporting requirements which keep the Congress and the public informed of the number, purpose, membership, activities, and cost of these advisory committees are also included.

(b) The Act and these regulations do not apply to advisory meetings or groups listed in § 101-6.1004.

§ 101-6.1002 Policy.

The policy to be followed by Federal departments, agencies, and commissions, consistent with the Federal Advisory Committee Act, as amended, is that an advisory committee shall be:

(a) Established only when it is essential to the conduct of agency business. Decision criteria would include whether committee deliberations will result in the creation, elimination, or change in regulations, guidelines, or rules affecting agency business; whether the information to be obtained is already available through another advisory committee or source within the Federal Government; whether the committee will make recommendations resulting in significant improvements in service or reductions in cost; or whether the committee recommendations will provide an important additional perspective or viewpoint impacting on agency operations;

(b) Terminated whenever the stated objectives of the committee have been accomplished; the subject matter or work of the committee has become obsolete by the passing of time or the assumption of the committee's main functions by another entity within the Federal Government; or the agency determines that the cost of operation is excessive in relation to the benefits accruing to the Federal Government;

(c) Balanced in its membership in terms of the points of view represented and the functions to be performed; and

(d) Open to the public in its meetings except in those circumstances where a closed meeting shall be determined proper and consistent with the Act.

§ 101-6.1003 Definitions.

"Act" means the Federal Advisory Committee Act, as amended, 5 U.S.C. App. I.

"Administrator" means the Administrator of General Services.

"Advisory Committee" subject to the Act means any committee, board, commission, council, conference, panel, task force, or other similar group, or any subcommittee or other subgroup thereof, established by statute, or established or utilized by the President or any agency official for the purpose of obtaining advice or recommendations on issues or policies which are within the scope of his or her responsibilities.

"Agency" has the same meaning as in section 551(1) of Title 5 of the United States Code.

"Committee member" means an individual who serves by appointment on an advisory committee and has the full right and obligation to participate in the activities of the committee, including voting on committee recommendations.

"Independent Presidential advisory committee" means any Presidential advisory committee not assigned by the President, or the President's delegate, or by the Congress in law, to an agency for administrative and other support and for which the Administrator of General Services may provide administrative and other support on a reimbursable basis.

"Presidential advisory committee" means any advisory committee which advised the President. It may be established by the President or by the Congress, or used by the President in the interest of obtaining advice or recommendation for the President.

"Secretariat" means the General Services Administration's Committee Management Secretariat.

"Staff member" means any individual who serves in a support capacity to an advisory committee.

"Utilized" (or used), as referenced in the definition of "Advisory Committee" of this section, means a committee or other group composed in whole or in part of other than full-time officers or employees of the Federal Government with an established existence outside the Federal Government which the President or agency official(s) adopts, such as through institutional arrangements, as a preferred source from which to obtain advice or recommendations on a specific issue or policy within the scope of his or her responsibilities in the same manner as that individual would obtain advice or recommendations from an established advisory committee.

§ 101-6.1004 What are examples of advisory meetings or groups not covered by the Act or this regulation?

(a) Any committee composed wholly of full-time officers or employees of the Federal Government;

(b) Any advisory committee specifically exempted by an Act of Congress;

(c) Any advisory committee established or utilized by the Central Intelligence Agency;

(d) Any advisory committee established or utilized by the Federal Reserve System;

(e) The Advisory Committee on Intergovernmental Relations;

(f) Any local civic group whose primary function is that of rendering a public service with respect to a Federal program, or any State or local committee, council, board, commission, or similar group established to advise or make recommendations to State or local officials or agencies;

(g) Any meeting initiated by the President or one or more Federal official for the purpose of obtaining advice or recommendations from one individual;

(h) Except with respect to established advisory committees:

(1) Any meeting with a group initiated by the President or one or more Federal official(s) for the purpose of exchanging facts or information; or

(2) Any meeting initiated by a group with the President or one or more Federal official(s) for the purpose of expressing the group's view, provided that the President or Federal official(s) does not use the group as a preferred source of advice or recommendations;

(i) Any committee which is established to perform primarily operational as opposed to advisory functions, except that such committee may be covered by the Act if it becomes primarily advisory in nature. It is the responsibility of the administering agency to determine whether such a committee is primarily operational. If so, it would not fall under the requirements of the Act and this regulation, but would continue to be regulated under relevant laws, subject to the direction of the President and the review of the appropriate legislative committees; or

(j) Any meeting initiated by a Federal official(s) with more than one individual for the purpose of obtaining the advice of individual attendees and not for the purpose of utilizing the group to obtain consensus advice or recommendations.

§ 101-6.1005 By what authority may an advisory committee be established?

An advisory committee may be established in one of four ways:

(a) By the President by Executive Order;

(b) By law where the Congress specifically directs the President or an agency to establish it;

(c) By law where the Congress authorizes but does not direct the President or an agency to establish it. In this instance, an agency head shall follow the procedures provided in § 101-6.1007; or

(d) By an agency under general agency authority in Title 5 of the United States Code or under other general agency-authorizing law. In this instance, an agency head shall follow the procedures provided § 101-6.1007.

§ 101-6.1007 How does an agency head establish an advisory committee?

(a) In establishing or using an advisory committee, the head of an agency shall comply with the Act and this subpart, and shall—

(1) Prepare a proposed charter for the committee which includes the information listed in section 9(c) of the Act; and

(2) Submit an original and one copy of a letter to the Administrator proposing to establish or use, reestablish, or renew an advisory committee. The letter shall include the following information:

(i) An explanation of why the committee is essential to the conduct of agency business and in the public interest;

(ii) An explanation of why the committee's functions cannot be performed by the agency, another existing advisory committee, or other means such as a public hearing; and

(iii) A description of the agency's plan to attain balanced membership. For purposes of obtaining balance, agencies shall consider for membership a cross-section of interested persons and groups with demonstrated professional or personal qualifications or experience to contribute to the functions and tasks to be performed. This shall not be construed to limit the participation of any individual where such participation is necessary to obtain divergent points of view that are relevant to the business of the advisory committee. The letter shall be accompanied by two copies of the proposed charter.

(3) The requirements of paragraphs (a)(1) and (a)(2) of this section shall apply for any subcommittee of a chartered advisory committee, whether its members are drawn in whole or in part from the parent advisory committee, which functions independently of the parent advisory committee such as by making recommendations directly to the agency rather than for consideration by the chartered advisory committee.

(b) The Administrator will review the proposal and notify the agency head of concurrence or nonconcurrence within 15 days of receipt, if possible.

(c) Upon receipt of the Administrator's notification, the agency head shall notify the Administrator in writing that either:

(1) The advisory committee is being established. The filing of the advisory committee charter as specified in § 101-6.1013 shall be considered appropriate written notification in this instance. The agency head shall then comply with the provisions of § 101-6.1009 for an established advisory committee; or

(2) The advisory committee is not being established. In this instance, the agency head shall also advise the Administrator if the agency head intends to take any further action with respect to the proposed advisory committee.

§ 101-6.1009 What responsibilities does an agency head have for an established advisory committee or subcommittee as specified in § 101-6.1007?

(a) The agency head shall:

(1) File the charter as specified in § 101-6.1013;

(2) Issue agency regulations or guidelines as may be necessary to operate and oversee the advisory committee;

(3) File required documents;

(4) Publish required notices in the Federal Register;

(5) Designate a Committee Management Officer for the agency;

(6) Appoint a Designated Federal Official for each advisory committee;

(7) Ensure the opportunity for public participation as required;

(8) Ensure that detailed minutes are kept of each advisory committee meeting;

(9) Ensure that certain rates of pay are justified;

(10) Submit required reports; and

(11) Terminate the advisory committee when appropriate.

(b) The agency head should:

(1) Not later than the initial meeting of an advisory committee, submit to committee members, committee staff, consultants, and appropriate agency management personnel a written statement of the purpose, objectives and expected accomplishments for the committee.

(2) Solicit in writing or in a formal meeting at least annually the views of the committee members on the effectiveness, activities, and management of the committee, including recommendations for improvement. Comments received should be reviewed by the agency head or senior policy official responsible for the committee to determine whether improvements or corrective action is warranted. Copies of such recommendations should be retained until the committee is terminated or renewed.

(3) Involve key management personnel of the agency whose interests are affected by the committee in committee meetings, including reviewing reports and establishing agendas.

(4) Limit membership on advisory committees to 25 members for committees with an agency-wide mission and 12 members for committees with a more narrowly defined function or specialized area of interest. An agency head may authorize additional members for a committee when the agency head determines that such additional members are necessary to the function of the committee or to achieve balanced membership.

(5) Periodically but not less than annually review the level of agency staff support dedicated to advisory committees to ensure that expenditures are justified in consideration of committee activity and the benefits accruing to the Government.

(6) Monitor the attendance and participation of advisory committee members and consider replacing any member who has missed a substantial number of scheduled committee meetings.

(7) Establish meeting dates and distribute agendas and other meeting materials well in advance.

§ 101-6.1011 What are the responsibilities of the chairperson of an independent Presidential advisory committee?

The Chairperson shall comply with the Act and this regulation and shall—

(a) Determine with the Administrator or his or her delegate the role of the designated Federal Official;

(b) Designate a Committee Management Officer for the committee; and

(c) Fulfill the responsibilities of an agency head as specified in paragraphs (a)(1), (3), (4), (7), (8), and (10) of § 101-6.1009.

§ 101-6.1013 What are the charter filing requirements?

No advisory committee may operate, meet, or take any action until its charter has been filed as follows:

(a) Advisory committee established, used, reestablished, or renewed by an agency. The agency head shall file—

- (1) The charter with the standing committees of the Senate and of the House of Representatives having legislative jurisdiction of the agency;
- (2) A copy with the Secretariat; and
- (3) A copy with the Library of Congress, Exchange and Gift Division, Federal Documents Section, Federal Advisory Committee Desk, Washington, DC 20540.

(b) Advisory committee specifically directed by law or authorized by law. Procedures are the same as in paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) Presidential advisory committee. When either the President or the Congress establishes an advisory committee which advises the President, the responsible agency head or, in the case of an independent Presidential advisory committee, the President's designee, shall file—

- (1) The charter with the Secretariat;
- (2) A copy with the Library of Congress; and
- (3) If specifically directed by law, a copy with the standing committees of the Senate and of the House of Representatives having legislative jurisdiction of the agency or of the independent Presidential advisory committee.

§ 101-6.1015 What advisory committee information must be published in the Federal Register?

(a) Committee establishment, reestablishment, or renewal.—(1) A notice in the Federal Register is required when any advisory committee, except a committee directed by law or established by the President, is established, reestablished, or renewed. Upon receiving notification of the completed review and concurrence in the committee from the Administrator, the agency head shall publish a notice in the Federal Register that the committee is being established, reestablished, or renewed, and for a new committee such notice shall also include a statement describing the nature and purpose of the committee and an affirmation that it is necessary and in the public interest.

(2) Establishment and reestablishment notices shall appear at least 15 days before the committee charter is filed, except that the Administrator may approve less than 15 days when requested for good cause by the agency head. The 15-day notice requirement does not apply to committee renewals.

(b) Committee meetings.—(1) The agency head or the chairperson of an independent Presidential advisory committee shall publish at least 15 days prior to an advisory committee meeting a notice in the Federal Register which includes:

- (i) The exact name of the advisory committee as chartered;
  - (ii) The time, date, place, and purpose of the meeting;
  - (iii) A summary of the agenda; and
  - (iv) A statement whether all or part of the meeting is open to the public or closed, and if closed, the reasons why, citing the specific exemptions of the Government in the Sunshine Act (5 U.S.C. 552b) as the basis for closure.
- (2) In exceptional circumstances, the agency head or chairperson of an independent Presidential advisory committee may give less than 15 days notice, provided that the reasons for doing so are included in the committee meeting notice published in the Federal Register.

§ 101-6.1017 What are the duties of the agency Committee Management Officer?

(a) The Committee Management Officer is designated by the agency head or by the chairperson of an independent Presidential advisory committee and his or her name, agency address, and phone number given to the Secretariat.

(b) The Committee Management Officer shall—

- (1) Discharge the responsibilities enumerated in section 8(b) of the Act;
- (2) Maintain in a single location a complete set for the charters and membership lists of each of the agency's advisory committees;
- (3) Maintain information on the nature, functions, and operations of each of the agency's advisory committees; and
- (4) Provide information on how to obtain copies of minutes of meetings and reports of each of the agency's advisory committees.

§ 101-6.1019 What are the duties of the Designated Federal Official?

The agency head, or in the case of an independent Presidential advisory committee, the Administrator, shall designate a full-time Federal employee to be the Designated Federal Official for the advisory committee, who shall—

- (a) Attend the meetings;
- (b) Adjourn the meetings when he or she determines that adjournment is in the public interest, and
- (c) For agency-established advisory committees:

(1) Approve or call the meeting of the advisory committee;

(2) Approve the agenda; and

(3) Chair the meeting when so determined by the agency head.

§ 101-6.1021 How may the public participate in advisory committee meetings?

The agency head, or the chairperson of an independent Presidential advisory committee, shall ensure that—

(a) Each advisory committee meeting is held at a reasonable time and in a place reasonably accessible to the public;

(b) The meeting room size is sufficient to accommodate advisory committee members, committee or agency staff, and interested members of the public;

(c) Any member of the public is permitted to file a written statement with the advisory committee; and

(d) Any member of the public may speak at the advisory committee meeting if the agency's regulations or guidelines so permit.

§ 101-6.1023 What is the procedure for closing an advisory committee meeting?

(a) To close all or part of a meeting, a duly authorized official acting on behalf of the committee shall submit a request to the agency head, or, in the case of an independent Presidential advisory committee, the Administrator or his delegate, at least 30 days prior to the scheduled meeting date, citing the specific provisions of the Government in the Sunshine Act (5 U.S.C. 552b) which justify the closure. The agency head, or, in the case of an independent Presidential advisory committee, the Administrator, may waive the 30-day requirement when a lesser period of time is requested and justified by the duly authorized official or chairperson.

(b) As required by the Government in the Sunshine Act, the general counsel of the agency, or in the case of an independent Presidential advisory committee, the General Services Administration Counsel, shall review all requests to close meetings.

(c) If the agency head, or in the case of an independent Presidential advisory committee, the Administrator or the person to whom such authority is delegated by the agency head or Administrator, determines that the request is consistent with the Government in the Sunshine Act and the Federal Advisory Committee Act, he or she shall issue a determination that all or part of the meeting may be closed.

(d) The agency head, or the chairperson of an independent Presidential advisory committee, shall:

(1) Make a copy of the determination available to the public upon request;

(2) Publish the meeting notice in the Federal Register, including the reasons why all or part of the meeting is closed, citing the specified exemptions used from the Government in the Sunshine Act.

§ 101-6.1025 Are minutes required at advisory committee meetings?

The agency head or, in the case of an independent Presidential advisory committee, the chairperson, shall ensure that detailed minutes of each advisory committee are kept. The minutes must include—

(a) Time, date, and place;

(b) A list of the following persons who were present:

(1) Advisory committee members and staff;

(2) Agency employees; and

(3) Members of the public who present oral or written statements;

(c) An estimated number of other members of the public present;

(d) An accurate description of each matter discussed and the resolution, if any, made by the committee of such matter; and

(e) Copies of each report or other document received or issued by the Committee.

§ 101-6.1027 How are advisory committees terminated?

Any advisory committee shall automatically terminate not later than 2 years after it is established, reestablished, or renewed, unless—

(a) Its duration is otherwise provided in law;

(b) It is renewed; or

(c) The President or agency head terminates it before that time.

§ 101-6.1029 How are advisory committees renewed?

(a) Advisory committees established by the President may be renewed by appropriate action of the President and the filing of a new charter.

(b) Advisory committees specifically directed by law:

(1) Which terminate under the provisions of section 14 of the Act may be reestablished by an agency head, provided that the agency head complies with the provisions of § 101-6.1007; or

(2) Whose duration extends beyond 2 years shall require a new charter to be filed every 2 years after the date of enactment of the law establishing the committee. If a new charter is not filed, the committee is not terminated, but may not meet or take any action.

(c) Advisory committees authorized by law or established or used by an agency: At least 30 but not more than 60 days before the committee terminates, an agency head who intends to renew a committee shall comply with the provisions of § 101-6.1007.

§ 101-6.1031 When should an advisory committee charter be amended?

(a) Committees established by the President or specifically directed by law. When the President by Executive order or the Congress by law changes the authorizing language which has been the basis for establishing an advisory committee, the agency head or chairperson of an independent Presidential advisory committee shall—

(1) Amend those sections of the current charter affected by the new Executive order or law; and

(2) File the amended charter as specified in § 101-6.1013.

(b) Agency-authorized committees. The charter of an agency-authorized advisory committee may be amended when an agency head determines that the existing charter no longer accurately reflects the goals or procedures of the committee. Changes may be minor, such as revising the name of the advisory committee, or may be major dealing with the basic objectives or composition of the committee.

(1) To make a minor amendment to a committee charter, an agency head shall:

(i) Amend the charter language as necessary, and

(ii) File the amended charter as specified in § 101-6.1013.

(2) To make a major amendment to a committee charter, an agency head shall:

(i) Amend the charter language as necessary,

(ii) Submit the proposed amended charter with a letter to the Administrator requesting concurrence in the amended language and an explanation of why the changes are essential and in the public interest. The Administrator or his or her delegate will give notice to the agency head of concurrence or nonconcurrence in the request within 15 days of receipt of the request, if possible; and

(iii) File the amended charter as specified in § 101-6.1013.

(c) Renewals. Amending any existing advisory committee charter does not constitute renewal of the committee under § 101-6.1029.

§ 101-6.1033 When should advisory committee members and staff receive compensation and expense reimbursements for committee activities?

(a) Committee members. Unless specifically required by law, agencies shall not compensate advisory committee members for their service on an advisory committee. In the exceptional case where an agency head is unable to meet the need for technical expertise or the requirement for balanced membership solely through the appointment of noncompensated members, the agency head may contract for the services of a specific consultant who may be appointed as a member of the advisory committee. In such a case, the agency head shall follow the procedures set forth in paragraph (b) of this section. This paragraph (a) shall apply to any committee member appointed after May 15, 1983. No committee member shall be compensated other than as allowed in paragraph (b) of this section after September 30, 1983.

(b) Consultants. Prior to hiring a consultant to an advisory committee, the agency head must determine that the expertise or viewpoint to be offered by the consultant is not otherwise available without cost to the agency. When an agency head hires a consultant, the compensation may not exceed the maximum rate of pay authorized by 5 U.S.C. 3109. Hiring of consultants shall be in accordance with OMB Circular A-120 and applicable statutes, regulations, and Executive Orders.

(c) Staff members. An agency may fix the pay of each advisory committee staff member at a rate of the General Schedule, General Management Schedule, or Senior Executive Service in which the Staff member's position would appropriately be placed (5 U.S.C. Chapter 51). An agency may not fix the pay of a staff member at a rate higher than the daily equivalent of the maximum rate for GS-15, unless the agency head has determined that under the General Schedule, General Management Schedule, or Senior Executive Service classification system, the staff member's position would appropriately be placed at a grade higher than GS-15. This determination must be reviewed annually by the agency head.

(1) In establishing rates of compensation, the agency head shall comply with applicable statutes, regulations, and Executive Orders.

(2) A staff member who is a Federal employee shall serve with the knowledge of the Designated Federal Official and the approval of the employee's direct supervisor. If a non-Federal employee, the staff member shall be appointed in accordance with applicable agency procedures, following consultation with the advisory committee.

(d) Travel expenses. Advisory committee members and staff members, while engaged in the performance of their duties away from their homes or regular places of business, may be allowed travel expenses, including per diem in lieu of subsistence, as authorized by section 5703 of title 5, United States Code, for persons employed intermittently in the Government service.

(e) Special services. While performing advisory committee duties, an advisory committee member who is blind or deaf or who qualifies as a handicapped individual may be provided services by a personal assistant for handicapped employees if the member—

(1) Qualifies as a handicapped individual as defined by section 501 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (29 U.S.C. 794); and

(2) Does not otherwise qualify for assistance under 5 U.S.C. 3102 by reason of being an employee of an agency.

(f) Noncompensated services. Nothing in this section prevents an agency from accepting the noncompensated or reimbursed services of a member, consultant, or staff member of an advisory committee.

(g) Exclusions.—(1) Nothing in this section prevents any person who (without regard to his or her service with an advisory committee) is a full-time Federal employee from receiving compensation at the rate at which he or she otherwise would be compensated as a full-time Federal employee.

(2) Nothing in this section prevents any person who immediately before his or her service with an advisory committee was a full-time Federal employee from receiving compensation at the rate at which he or she was compensated as a full-time Federal employee.

(3) Nothing in this section affects a rate of pay or a limitation on a rate of pay that is specifically established by law or a rate of pay established under the General Schedule classification and pay system in chapter 51 and chapter 53 of title 5, United States Code.

§ 101-8.1035 What reports are required for advisory committees?

GSA will periodically issue instructions to agencies regarding reporting requirements and procedures. Included in those requirements, each agency shall file a report on a fiscal year basis providing requested program, financial, and membership information to GSA. This information shall be used by GSA for preparing program recommendations and status reports on advisory committee matters, and for assisting the President in preparing and submitting a fiscal year report to the Congress. The membership list for each advisory committee shall be updated quarterly with notification furnished to GSA of all new vacancies and appointments during the period.
